TOMORROW NIGHT IS LAST FOR ENTRIES TO BIG TOURNAMENT

Masonic League Will Have Twenty Teams in Action Against the Maple Pins.

Tomorrow night, at the stroke of twelve, the bars will drop on the entries for the A. C. B. A. tournament. The big towling classic will be in augurated just ten days later, on April when the District Commissioners. Major Pullman, and other local and nationally-known celebrities will toe the foul-lines of the sixteen new tournament alleys and send the balls thunder ing down the glistening maples for the opening of the greatest tenpin, duckpin and candlepin tourney ever held in the history of the game.

As many entries as have already been received—these beyond the expectations of the promoters-they will not number up to the scores coming in at this eventh hour with every mail. Telegrams from all sections announce the entrance of new contestants, while the telephones at tournament headquarters are buzzing with inquiries and assurances that this team or that individual will be on hand.

A special meeting of the executive committee, in charge of the tourney, was held in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday. The various applications for concessions were disposed of and the custom of selection. applications for concessions were dis-posed of, and the question of admis-sions and passes settled. The admis-sion price was fixed at twenty-five

A check for $500, payable to the Washington Tournament Company was received yesterday from the Masonic league, to cover the entrance fees of their twenty teams in the tourney. This is said to be the largest league entry made in any bowling tournament in recent years. The Mosans are out to make all comers "ride the goat."

backward this season. Few real workouts have been held on account of the cold weather, and diamonds have been impossible for anything in the line of practice. Some work has been done on the grass at Georgetown, Gallaudet, and Catholic University, while the high schools, for the most part, have been forced to toss a few and then go in.
Several years ago teams in this section got into line for baseball as early as March 3, and by this time of the year fairly well seasoned. Year before last rain knocked all teams cut of practice and it was only during the last week in March that the teams were able to get any regular sessions in the field.

Palmer Stearns, Western's captain of last season, has been shifted to right field on the University of Virginia team. Stearns had a poor year last season but seems to have regained his batting eye. In three games the yourgster has gotten six hits and appears to have caught on for good.
